Workshop Details:

This comprehensive three-day training will provide insight into current trauma, attachment, and neuroscience research at a deeper / integrative level ensuring an understanding of critical information and best practice strategies for working with trauma.

You will learn how trauma at different ages impacts patients a neurological, emotional and physiological level. This information will allow you to make connections to later life behaviours and health outcomes to create treatment plans that promote targeted integration.

This training will also help you to enhance your clinical skills and learn how you can add trauma regulation and attachment healing strategies to your repertoire.

Day 2 will focus on clinical applications. Through this training participants will learn how to make historical connections, complete initial assessments, engage in trauma processing, and formulate trauma-informed treatment planning. Participants will learn about various phase-based treatments for complex trauma and will review best practice and evidence-based approaches through an experiential format.

Days 3-5 will focus on putting our Integrative Trauma and Attachment Treatment Model (ITATM) into practice. A live demo will be provided and participants will be guided through trauma processing as both the clinician and the client. Days 4 & 5 allow for additional demonstrations and continued practice of the model with enhanced strategies for working with various aspects of complex trauma.
